After years of use, the car leather on your classic can become worn and tired-looking, and can often make an otherwise pristine interior look old and unappealing.

The option of a re-trim is both expensive and often unnecessary, and can affect the originality and provenance of your car so what are your options?

Dynamix currently stocks a premier range of car leather dyes and all Connolly stock colours to restore your car leather to its original condition. In addition it has a carefully selected range of leather care/repair products.

The dyes are all produced to original manufacturer's specification and the company also offers a free colour match service to make sure you pick the right shade.

Dynamix stock a wide range of dyes for a host of car manufacturers including Ferrari, Jaguar, and Mercedes to name a few.
